

Sunday Concert Series Announced

The Town of Genoa will be presenting a line-up of entertainment for the 2007 Genoa Summer Concert Series, which are free and scheduled to be held at the Genoa Park. These popular performances are scheduled during the summer months on Sundays from 5 to 7 pm except for the last concert in September, which begins at 4 pm and ends at 6 pm. The concert series features a combination of popular performers who are new to Genoa as well as crowd favorites who have already performed here. The season opener is Moonlight Hoodoo Revue, who have been performing together since 2001. They have played coffeeshouses and brewpubs in the Reno and Tahoe area. They recently opened for the Del McCoury Band at the Celebrity Showroom in the Nugget. The Hoodoos play mostly distinctive bluegrass, rock and folk tunes as well as old time favorites. The next two concerts are Genoa crowd favorites from past years, which include Exit 22 on July 8 and Quake City Jug Band on August 19. In the final concert, 5 Alarm features popular and blues music. Quality acts with good performers and entertainment have been selected so everyone can enjoy the concerts. Each entertaining evening of music is designed for family fun for people of all ages. Concert-goers are encouraged to bring a dinner picnic, lawn chairs, or blankets. Beer, wine and bottled water will be available for sale.

Town News

- Have you been to a function at the Town Hall recently? If so, you probably enjoyed sitting in the new stackable padded chairs, which make any event at the Town Hall more inviting and comfortable.
- Also on the list for the Town Hall is a resurfacing of the wooden floor. The existing finish is dingy and losing its sheen. The Board is expected to consider awarding a floor contract at its June meeting. If approved, the floor will be refinished the week of July 23.
- The Church building is back in business – after being closed for several weeks of wood work repairs and carpet replacement due to damage caused by the sprinkler system freezing in January. Contractors paid by the Town's insurance company sanded and varnished the ceiling and walls in the church and replaced the carpet.
- Park restrooms are open again!! The septic system for both the Church and the Town Park failed in March. The Town hooked to County sewer service for both facilities. The County Redevelopment Agency is reimbursing the Town for construction costs related to the hook-up, approximately $6,500.
- The annual road maintenance project to restore and maintain the Town's dirt roads will soon be underway. The Town Board is expected to consider awarding the project at its June meeting. Depending on the contractor's schedule, the work should take place in June or July.
- Road work in Sierra Shadows may soon be underway as well. At its June meeting, the Town Board is expected to consider participating in the County road maintenance program, which will include the slurry seal work for roads in Sierra Shadows.
- Flowers everywhere! – Thanks to the volunteer efforts of Betty Bourne, Sue Knight, Paige Turnipseed, and Carole Hart, who planted flowers in planter boxes at several Town locations. Thanks also to the WROT (Wild Rose Oval Table) group for donating the plants and flowers to beautify Genoa.
- Speaking of beautification – Thanks to Stephen Morton, who as a volunteer has worked to beautify the Town's center median by better defining the pathways, moving rocks, and shaping and transplanting flowers and plants. Volunteers really do make a difference!
